Mathew Gregory Kills A Son

About eight o'clock Thursday night November 6, Mathew Gregory killed his son, Ross Gregory, at Mathew Gregory's home about six miles north west from Benson in Pleasant Grove township. There had been family quarrels and family fights there for several years. Last night both men were drinking and during a fight they had, a butcher knife was used to cut the young man's throat. He died in a few minutes. He was nineteen years old and had been married only about two weeks...{illegible}...said there was great trouble among the women folks after the killing. Deputy Sheriff George Moore went last night about twelve o'clock and brought the murderer to jail. He claims self-defense and has employed Abell & Ward to defend him.

Reclaiming The Old Homeplace: Historic House Gets Makeover, Unveils Treasures
by: Jason Beck

Teetering on the precipice between demolition and preservation, the house at 62 McIver St. looms tall in both stature and in the history books as one of the oldest homes in town. Now, thanks to one Angier man, the home is on the way back to its former glory.

Donald Gregory, who owns an Angier construction company, purchased the house built by his great uncle W.H. Gregory in 1915, and is in the process of restoring it. Though the home is more than 90 years old, Mr. Gregory said there are few like it in the area.

"It's probably one of the best built homes I've ever seen and I've been building for years," he said. "These are real 2 by 4s, 2 by 8s and 2 by 10s ... the craftsmanship is unbelievable."

Featuring pocket doors, six fireplaces and its original bathtub, the home was built as one of the most luxurious dwellings of its time.

"It's just unique," Mr. Gregory said. "I just couldn't stand to see that much history go. It's one of the oldest nicer homes in town."

Another person breathing a sigh of relief for the home's salvation is Joyce Bell, who grew up in the house with its original owners, who were her grandmother and grandfather.

"It was so nice. It was a wonderful, wonderful home," she said. "I'm thrilled to death."

She has memories of Christmas and the large wrap-around porch, of soldiers visiting her sisters at the home during World War II.

"Of course I was little then so I remember it bigger than it was," she said. "There is so much history there you could never quit talking about it."

She said her grandfather started building the home before World War I, gathering all the supplies but having to halt until the war was over due to a lack of manpower for building. She said it took some convincing to get her Aunt Marie, who still owned the property, to sell the home - however, the house is still in the family.

"My Aunt Marie would have never sold to anyone but a Gregory," Mrs. Bell said. "I called her and said if we don't sell this house, it will be destroyed."

What Mr. Gregory found inside the house when renovations began was nothing short of astounding.

"We found Uncle Bill and Aunt Mable's marriage license, all kinds of magazines dating way back ... many in the 1940s," Mr. Gregory said. "We found deeds to property around town."

And of course, there were plenty of pictures.

"When we started taking stuff out of the house and I started seeing these wonderful pictures I almost fainted," Ms. Bell said. "I thought they were lost forever. A lot of this, these pictures, should be preserved."

Also inside one of the home's walls is a time capsule, placed by the original owners. Mr. Gregory said he still is debating whether to break the capsule's seal. He said soon the home will once again be one of the finest structures in town, as it was when it was built before the Great Depression.

"It's going to be a showplace," Ms. Bell said. "It's going to be lovely."

As for the home's future, don't expect it to be on the market any time soon.

"I'm going to move in it, my wife and I," Mr. Gregory said. "We are going to keep it in the family."

Notes for ALICE NETTRAL DUPREE:

Dunn Daily Record

1/18/2005

One of Angier's lifelong residents celebrated 100 years of life Sunday with a party fit for a queen. Fittingly, Alice Dupree Raynor even wore a crown at her birthday party, after turning 100 on Jan. 15.

Mayor Wanda Gregory presented her with a resolution of congratulations enacted by the board of commissioners, U.S. Rep. Bob Etheridge offered his best wishes, and the Angier Twirlers square danced, entertaining the crowds of people who turned out to celebrate.

Mrs. Raynor certainly has plenty to celebrate. She was a charter member of Harnett County's Retired Senior Volunteer Program and of the Daughters of the Eastern Star. She has a long resume of service to the community, including being voted Woman of the Year in 1998, and has been a member of Angier Methodist Church almost since its inception.

"She was involved in senior programs since before we had a program for seniors," Rep. Etheridge said. "Whenever things were happening in Angier, she was behind it in one way or another. I think she's a good example of if you live a positive life, good things will happen," he said.

Mrs. Raynor is well remembered for her long years of service in the community, and her knitting, crocheting, sewing and quilting has been admired for years. In recent years, she crocheted American flags following the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11 and distributed them among churches, homes and local businesses.

Mrs. Raynor shared some of her memories about growing up in Angier. She remembers knitting sweaters to send overseas to the soldiers fighting during World War II and hand making most of her children's clothing.

"I've lived here all my life just about," she said. "I've been a member of Angier Methodist Church for near 85 years."

Mrs. Raynor remembers growing up back when roads were rough dirt paths and horse and buggy were the means of transportation.

"I've been to Raleigh on a horse mule and buggy," she said. "We'd go to the stables and put our horse and mule in and they'd feed them corn and you'd stay until you were ready to go and go get your mule."

Mrs. Raynor said on trips to Raleigh as a young girl she enjoyed shopping for clothes and other items at stores like Charles' and Hudson and Belk. Mrs. Raynor grew up making many of her own clothes, however.

"When she was very young she said her dad would come to town in Angier and buy the most expensive material. He'd come home and throw it in her lap and tell her to make anything she wanted out of it," her daughter Martha Gale said. "She's an only child. She's spoiled, and we've kept it up," Ms. Gale said jokingly.

Mrs. Raynor remembers when Angier Methodist Church held services in a white house on Dunn Street in Angier. She and her family later lived in the house after the church relocated to a larger facility.

Married to James Broughton Raynor in 1928, Raynor had three children, Julia Thomas, Martha Gale and Kent Raynor, who died of cancer several years ago. Her daughter-in-law, Wandra Raynor, co-hosted her birthday party. Julia was named after Mrs. Raynor's mother and Martha after her husband's mother. Mrs. Raynor now has eight grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

A hip injury sent her to Oak Hill Living Center after living at home for 98 years. She said she believes the secret to a long life is to not complain and to eat well, and said she is most proud of waking up every morning and knowing who she is.

News & Observer, The (Raleigh, NC)
01/17/2006

Alice Dupree Raynor, 101, of Oak Hill Assisted Living, Angier, went to meet her maker on January 16, 2006. She was preceded in death by her husband, James Broughton Raynor and her son, Ira Kent Raynor. She was an only child, born to Julia Pollard Dupree of Coats and Ira Dupree of Willow Spring, on January 18, 1905.

Funeral services will be held 2:00 p.m. Wednesday at the Angier United Methodist Church with Eastern Star Rites. Burial to follow in the Angier Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include her children, Julia R. Thomas of New Bern, Martha R. Gale of Angier, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kent Raynor (Wandra) of Angier; grandchildren, Kathy Welch Parker and husband, Greg of Tarboro, Kimsey Welch and wife, Renee' of New Bern, Rick Raynor and wife, Terry of Raleigh, Adam Raynor and wife, Julie of Willow Spring, Dona Raynor of Venice, CA, Robbie Gale and Penny, of Rawlings, WY, Kenny Gale of Rawlings, WY, Jamie Sauls Brannon and husband, Keith of Greer, SC, Jane Thomas Choate and husband, Ron of Jacksonville, Ann Pittman and husband, Steve of Richmond, VA, Robbie Thomas and Cynthia of Fayetteville, NC; great-grandchildren, Corie, Caleb, Cody and Tony Gale, Matthew Parker, Kyle Brannon, Jake Welch, Madison, Trevor, and Tanner Raynor, Alex and Jarod Raynor, Jane Claire Choate and husband Chris, Stacey Cowardin, Brandon Cowardin and wife, Mila, Rachel and Sarah Thomas; great-great-grandchildren, Raghan, Allie, Logan and soon to be Luke; special cousins, Louis Dupree and Maxine Adams Gardner.

Mrs. Raynor was a long-time Angier homemaker and landmark. She was visible daily, walking throughout town from store to store making her way to the post office and back home after stopping by to see her son, Kent at Angier Paint. Her longevity has been contributed to this daily exercise routine as she said, "get up every morning and dress to go somewhere, and most important of all, have young friends to drive you places." Mrs. Raynor was Angier's Woman of the Year, 1997-1998. She was known for visiting and continually doing for friends and family. She was a charter member of Angier Eastern Star and an 83 year member of Angier United Methodist Church. She was a charter member of the Home Demonstration Club and Angier Senior Citizens Club.

The 911 attack on America stimulated Mrs. Raynor, who was blind and deaf, to knit about 100 large American Flags. These flags were sent all over the U.S., such as Wyoming, California, South Carolina, Colorado, Virginia, etc. She had lived almost 100 years but had never seen such an attack on our beloved country. She sent these to friends, relatives, businesses and U.S. President Bush.

The family will meet friends and family at Bryan-Lee Funeral Home, Angier, on Tuesday from 6-8 p.m. and at other times at the Kent Raynor home, 103 South Pleasant St., Angier, NC 27501.

Beasley Loses Battle With Cancer

By JASON BECK

A pillar in the Coats community has passed on. Former town board member Max Beasley died Thursday morning after battling cancer for several months. He was 77. Mr. Beasley served the board as commissioner for 12 years before calling it quits last year. He decided not to run for re-election due to his failing health.

"It's a big loss to the community and his family," said B.W. Holland, a close friend and another former town commissioner. "He was a great friend and a mentor to me. It's truly going to be a loss, but at least he won't suffer anymore," Mr. Holland said.

Mr. Beasley lived at 323 E. Main St. in Coats with his wife Dovie Davis Beasley. He had one son, Max Duane of Goldsboro, and three grandchildren, Zabrina, Susan and Stephanie.

He served at Coats First Baptist Church as a deacon and retired after 30 years of employment with GMAC. He also served in the Navy. However, it was his involvement in Coats politics and town business for which he was most well known. He was respected for his strong convictions and belief in the betterment of the town.

Gale Spears served on the board with Mr. Beasley for eight years and considered him a friend.

"He loved Coats and he was always concerned with the well being of the residents of this city," she said. "He was a joy to work with; he is really going to be missed, I'll tell you that." She said he had strong opinions about how town business should be conducted. "Max and I sometimes didn't agree on everything, but we had a very good working relationship and he was one that would quickly say 'I was wrong, you were right' and we both did that the time we were on the board together, which was about eight years," she said. "We had a very respectful working relationship because we both had the same goal and that was to do what is best for the Town of Coats."

Johnny Shull, the former mayor of Coats when Mr. Beasley was serving on the board, also respected him for taking a stand.

"It was certainly an honor to serve with Max, and while he and I certainly had our disagreements on policy and political decisions, he was a fine man and certainly he and I worked well together and I greatly respected him," he said. Mr. Shull recalled the first time he got a taste of how concerned Mr. Beasley was with the well being of Coats. "My best memory of Max was that he invited me over to his house right after we got elected on a Saturday morning and we probably spent six or seven hours together talking about issues," he said.

Mr. Holland explained just how much influence and impact Mr. Beasley had during his years in Coats.

"He has left a good legacy," he said. "He is the one who got sewer in town, he had a big part in that and of course he worked hand in hand with a lot of people with the Centennial Square. Max did a lot of things for the community most people didn't even know about," Mr. Holland said.

Donation Of Time, Energy

Gayle Sorrell, who helped head up the Cenntennial Project, said Mr. Beasley donated his time, energy and talent of painting to spruce up sites during last year's Cenntennial celebration. She said he painted the mural of Alton Stewart (the late Coats aviator) on a wall downtown and also painted a mural on a wall in the museum. She said his talent was God-given and he never charged for it.

"That man cannot be described with just a few little words," Mrs. Sorrell said. "I guess the thing I think about Max, because he was out here so much with the Cenntennial, is that he was a true Southern gentleman." She said instead of spending his retirement relaxing, he decided to move back to his hometown and better it. "This is a man that went away, had a very high position and decided he should serve Coats," she said. "He had nothing to gain except to love his community."

Though he never had the privilege of serving with Mr. Beasley, Marshall Miller, the current Coats mayor, knew him and his legacy.

"I was very saddened by today's news," Mayor Miller said Thursday. "I had gone recently and seen Max and it was a surprise to me, because when I saw him he looked good, and they were planning on sending him home. I think that Coats lost a great citizen and the town is not going to be the same without him," he said.

Mystery unfolds farmer's death

Author: MATTHEW EISLEY; STAFF WRITER

ANGIER -- Jerry Pleasant left his house at 9:15 p.m. to turn off the sprinklers watering his tobacco seedlings, just as he had during planting weeks for 30 springs. After his wife awoke alone five hours later, she drove several hundred yards to the irrigation pond on their Harnett County farm.

There, Ginger Pleasant found her husband, one of Angier's most admired residents, lying dead next to his John Deere tractor. The Harnett County Sheriff's Department and the State Bureau of Investigation have no suspect, no motive and no leads in the apparent murder, Sheriff Lewis Rosser said Tuesday.

"We're trying to figure the thing out," Rosser said. "It's going to be a tough one."

Family and friends said they can't imagine who would want to kill Pleasant, 53, a well-respected farmer of mixed crops. "He was a hell of a good damn guy," said Ben Gardner, whose tobacco farm backs up to the Pleasants' land. "We hunted together, fished together, farmed together and played together," Gardner said. "He taught me Sunday school. I can't even believe it's happened."

Coming as it did during the critical tobacco planting season, Pleasant's death has been the talk of Angier since he was killed late Sunday. "Jerry was just a good old hard-working farm boy," said Devaul Langdon, a Barclaysville landscaper, as he relaxed at the Kountry Korner store on County Line Road east of town. "I don't think you'll find nobody that'll give Jerry a bad name. Why anybody in the world would shoot him, I don't know. I'd like to find out who did it and chop his head off."

Just a month ago, the youthful-looking Pleasant, a grandfather, threw a surprise party for his wife's 50th birthday. "He was real sweet for my birthday," Ginger Pleasant said with a smile. "We've had our problems, but they all worked out. We had an above-average marriage."

Pleasant, one of the area's most prosperous farmers, planted about 75 of his 350 acres in tobacco. He also grew corn, beans and wheat, raised beef cattle and installed septic tanks on the side. Pleasant was known to give seedlings to neighboring farmers if theirs didn't make it. He swapped farm supplies, workers and his own time in the fields. His generosity was long-standing.

"When Jerry was in elementary school, he heard about somebody's tragedy, and he gave all his lunch money for the week away to help them," said his sister, Judith Schunk of Cary, as she sat with Ginger Pleasant at the couple's dining room table, looking at family photographs.

Hazeleen Pleasant, mother of Schunk and Jerry Pleasant, said he came to eat breakfast with her every Sunday at her home in Johnston County. "He never caused me one minute's trouble," she said. "The only thing I ever knew him to brag on was his grandchildren."

Wendy Stewart, a Kountry Korner clerk, said Pleasant was a frequent customer. "He came in to buy drinks for his workers," she said. "He was all the time talking about farming. Everybody got along with him."

Ronnie Adams, who runs Adams Farm Supply on Benson Road outside Angier, said almost everybody in the town of 2,200 knew Pleasant. "I don't mind losing a customer, but I sure don't like losing a friend," Adams said.

Pleasant's funeral is today at 3 p.m. at Angier Baptist Church. His wife, mother, two adult children, two sisters and two grandchildren survive him.

Ginger Pleasant said she last saw her husband a few minutes past 9 Sunday night. He had just finished watching "Murder, She Wrote" on television and was leaving the house for his tobacco field. She went to bed about 11 p.m. When she woke at 2:10 a.m., he had not returned. "I tried to reach him three times on the mobile phone, and he didn't answer," she said. "I knew something was wrong."

Dunn PD: Denning Promoted To Major; Strickland Is New Captain

The chain of command has not changed, but titles of two of Dunn's top police officers have. Morry Denning, who was a captain, has been named major. The last officer in the Dunn Police Department promoted to major was Bobby Maynard in 1995, who retired in 1997. Lt. Tony Strickland, who heads up the Criminal Investigations Division (CID), has been promoted to captain. The appointments were effective Friday.

Dunn once had two captains on the police force. Maj. Denning was in charge of administration, while Ronnie Radcliffe was captain over patrol operations. Mr. Radcliffe was demoted to sergeant last year for discussing the pay raises of department heads. He now works as a crime scene technician in CID. He has also filed a lawsuit against Dunn, requesting reinstatement to his prior position.

Maj. Denning's annual salary increases from $48,572.16 to $52,215.08. Capt. Strickland's salary is upped from $40,922.88 to $45,015.17. "There is no change in duties, just a higher rank," Dunn Police Chief Tim Benware said. "These appointments have been under discussion for a while, and were part of the new budget request."

Maj. Denning

Morry Denning, 48, is a lifetime resident of Dunn. The son of a lawman, he began his career with the police department as an auxiliary officer in 1980 while working at the N.C. Department of Corrections. He joined the force full-time as an officer in the patrol division in September of 1981. He has worked his entire career in the patrol division, and was promoted to a sergeant in 1984, then a lieutenant in 1993. He became a captain on the force in July 1999.

Chief Benware said the appointment to major makes sense based on the department makeup and employer performance. "Being major only makes him (Maj. Denning) second in command," he said. "With the command structure we have in the department, it is appropriate to have one. My person for second command was the logical choice."

Chief Benware said Maj. Denning has proven himself. "Part of this appointment was based on tasks that had been assigned and carried out successfully. Morry has shown a proven ability to carry those tasks out. I have confidence in him to do the job, and there is a willingness by that individual to do the job," Chief Benware said.

Maj. Denning said he enjoys serving the Dunn community. "I always enjoy what I do and have a special interest in the people of Dunn. I always have and always will," he said. "It makes you feel good about helping people, and I feel like I am investing in the community."

Maj. Denning is the son of Peggy Denning of Dunn and the late Shamrock Denning. He and his wife Jonnie have two children, Tara Denning and Meagan D. West, and a grandson, Zachary.

Capt. Strickland

Capt. Strickland, 47, joined the Dunn Police force in 1986 as a patrol officer. He was promoted to sergeant in May 1995, then lieutenant in 1998 in the patrol division. In 1999, he transferred to CID.

"His duties have not changed," Chief Benware said. "The chain of command was based on seniority, and so everyone basically knows who is second and third in command."

Capt. Strickland said he is encouraged by Chief Benware's confidence in him. "I am excited and looking forward to my duties as captain," he said. "This is just a continuation of a 19- to 20-year career dedicated to the citizens of Dunn."

Capt. Strickland and his wife Daomi have a son Tony, daughter Paige, and he has a stepdaughter Anna. He is the son of Thelma Strickland of Dunn and the late Reece Strickland.

Children of BENJAMIN DENNING and JONNIE EMORY are:

WILSON -- An 18-year-old Cary High School graduate and star athlete was killed in a single-vehicle wreck Tuesday afternoon as he drove home from Greenville.

News of Tyson Joseph Whittington's death spread rapidly Wednesday, as former classmates, teammates, coaches and teachers reached out to each other and Whittington's family to share their grief.

A 2001 graduate of Cary High, Whittington was an All-Conference quarterback last fall, as well as the Tri-Eight 4A Co-Offensive Player of the Year. Whittington also played on Cary High's varsity basketball team.

Friends and family said Whittington had gone to Greenville to visit friends at East Carolina University. Tuesday afternoon, he was driving back alone when he apparently lost control of his Honda Passport.

At 12:31 p.m. Tuesday, Whittington was driving west on U.S. 264 north of Sims when his vehicle ran off the road, a dispatcher with the state Highway Patrol said. Whittington's Passport rolled several times and skidded to a stop in the median, the dispatcher said. Whittington was taken to a nearby hospital in Wilson, where he later died.

Whittington's former basketball coach at Cary High, Allan Gustafson Jr., said his phone started ringing about 10 p.m. Tuesday. Several of Whittington's former teammates, including some who had graduated a year ahead of him, came over to the coach's house to talk late into the night.

"Word spread so fast," Gustafson said. "It's really generated an outpouring of love from those who knew him. ... We had nine seniors last year, so it really was a close-knit team."

As many as 150 well-wishers, many of them former classmates, came by the Whittington family's home to offer their condolences Wednesday, his family said.

Whittington didn't just socialize with jocks, his friends said. He had friends from one end of the high school to the other.

"You could name every clique, and he belonged to it," said Andrew Donovan, a basketball teammate and friend who drove Whittington home from practice for three years. "Everybody liked Tyson. Everybody had an affiliation with him."

Donovan said Whittington was a generous friend who often treated his friends to pizza or a night at the movies.

Tall and lanky, Whittington used to crack up his friends by flexing his muscles. During the warm-ups before every basketball game, Whittington would hike up his shorts, yank his socks up high and wear a headband to lighten the mood.

"He could always make you laugh if you were having a bad day," said Marcus Upchurch, 18, a basketball teammate.

Whittington planned to attend Wake Technical Community College for at least a year and had dreams of eventually walking on to N.C. State's football team, friends and family said.

Ron W. Pendergraft, Cary High's football coach, said Whittington was a strong leader for his young varsity squad last year.

"I was really wanting to see him go to the next level," Pendergraft said. "He had the arm, he had the vision. ... He was just starting to see his potential."

Some of Whittington's former classmates from his graduating class returned to Cary High School on Wednesday to mourn. His younger sister, Ashley Whittington, is a sophomore there this year.

Tuesday afternoon, Whittington's family was at the hospital in Wilson when he died.

Eddie Whittington, Tyson's father, said Ashley recalled the label she carried as a Cary High freshman.

"She said, 'All last year I was known as Tyson's little sister. And that's the most wonderful thing I could be known as.' "

Coats Scouts Better The Town

Gregory Phillips

Three members of the 779th Boy Scouts of America Troop celebrated a special milestone in Coats Sunday. They're brothers, and all three made Eagle Scout. The Parrish brothers - Joshua Henry, 21, Jonas McLuin, 20, and Simon Bartholomew, 18 - went through their Eagle Scout Court of Honor together at Coats Baptist Church Saturday afternoon.

With the requirements having to be met by the scout's 18th birthday, Joshua and Simon could have been recognized earlier but agreed to wait for their younger brother to achieve the honor so they could celebrate as a family. Their Scoutmaster Kevin Pope said he doesn't think the Parrish boys' accomplishment has been matched very often.

"I have had several people say that they had remembered seeing a triple like that," he said. "I had two brothers and two of us are Eagle Scouts and the other one didn't get there, so I think that's kind of a rare thing."

Troop 779 has stayed strong in Coats, with an enrollment of about 25 boys ever since Mr. Pope was a scout in the same troop as a boy, back when his father Gail Pope was Scoutmaster.

"I remember several of the trips that we took, and really more than anything else just learning to be a leader," he said.

Community Project

In addition to the numerous merit badges required, Eagle Scouts must also complete a community project to make the grade and Coats has done well out of its local troops' efforts. Joshua Parrish resurfaced and repainted the dilapidated tennis courts at the Coats Park, which he said "had been neglected for years and years." Jonas took the bell and cornerstones from the old Coats School and installed them outside the new school.

"My dad had always wanted one of us to do that," he said.

Simon restored a century-old cotton gin for display the new Coats Cotton Museum, opened at the town's centennial celebration three months ago.

"I learned a lot of the history while I was doing it," he said.

Other Eagle Scout projects have also benefited the town, from the steps installed at the Coasts Senior Center by Mr. Pope's son Matthew to the a storm drain installed at the park to create a picnic area by Ryan Pope (no relation). Another Scout, Chris Grimes, resurfaced and painted the parking lot at the park, Mr. Pope said, and the town appreciates the effort.

"The Coats chamber and the commissioners express that quite often to us," Mr. Pope said. "It's been a good area to work with, I have a lot of good parents that I work with now."

Mr. Parrish said the troop has always had good leadership. Mr. Pope said the community support has driven the troop and that the parents deserve most of the credit.

"The parents take care of the books and the registrations and records," he said. "All I have to do is take the boys to the woods."

Those camping trips seem to be a key to the troop's popularity. Mr. Pope said he tries to take them camping every month and all three Parrish boys cited those trips as a favorite memory of their time in the troop.

"That's the key," Mr. Pope said.

Between them, the Parrish boys amassed 130 merit badges. Jonas leads the pack, with 52.

"I just think I went to more camps than they did," he said. There's enough competitive spirit between them that once Joshua had made Eagle Scout, his brothers' were determined to follow.

"The other two knew they had to do it too," Mr. Parrish said.

Mr. Parrish never made it as far in the Scouts as his boys have.

"I dropped out before I made First Class Scout," he said.

For Mr. Parrish and his wife Judy, Saturday's ceremony forced them to confront their boys' passage into adulthood, all at once.

"My job's done," Mr. Parrish said. "They've definitely achieved a lot."

Compassion United Six at a Deadly Crossroads
By MOLLY HENNESSY-FISKE, BENJAMIN NIOLET AND MARGIE FISHMAN, Staff Writers

RALEIGH -- It began as a collision of SUVs at a darkened crossroads that drew six helpful souls Saturday night, until Larry Veeder's white van barreled out of the darkness.

On Sunday, investigators charged Veeder, 32, with drunken driving and involuntary manslaughter -- six counts.

Troopers called the crash at N.C. 54 and Nowell Road the Triangle's worst in years. Five people were killed at the intersection, their bodies strewn across the road. A sixth died on the way to the hospital.

"It was just a horrific scene," said Sgt. Everett Clendenin of the state Highway Patrol.

By Sunday, troopers had a clearer picture of what brought each of the dead and injured to the scene shortly after 8:45 p.m. the night before.

Troopers said that Baron A. Fulk, a 20-year-old N.C. State sophomore, ran a stop sign as he pulled his green Chevrolet Blazer onto N.C. 54 and was struck by a silver Blazer driven by Martha P. West, 40, of Marble in Cherokee County. Neither had any passengers.

Robert Alfaro Jr., 46, and wife Gene-Marie Louise Alfaro, 48, of Waxhaw, in town for N.C. State's parents weekend, stopped to help. So did two alumni on their way home from the football game at Carter-Finley Stadium: Dennis Wayne Bowes, 28, a financial planner from Cary, and Bryan Matthew Tutor, 29, a heating and air conditioning repairman from Coats.

Nolan Phillips Myers, 18, a Campbell University freshman from Minnesota, was also headed home from the game when he stopped.

Christopher Clemons, 41, heard the accident from his home on nearby Lincolnville Road and pedaled over on his bicycle.

Veeder, who works at Professional Paint and Sheetrock in Raleigh, was driving east on N.C. 54 (also known as Chapel Hill Road) -- troopers are trying to figure out how fast -- when he struck the group, Clendenin said.

Tim Parry, 23, an N.C. State senior, watched the collision. He was behind the cars of a few victims, who had parked short of the stop sign on Nowell Road.

"I noticed out of the corner of my eye the white work van, and I thought 'Why doesn't he slow down? Doesn't he see this SUV in the middle of the road?' " Parry said. He listened for screeching tires but heard none, and then the bodies flew through the air.

As one of his passengers dialed 911, Parry and the two others jumped out to help the injured.

"All we heard was moaning and yelling and screaming," he said.

Careful to stay clear of the road, Parry said he quickly discovered a fellow student had just seen his parents killed.

Early suspicions -

Troopers suspected Veeder was drunk when they arrived. He had alcohol on his breath, his eyes were glassy and his voice slurred, according to Wake magistrate's records. He refused to take a breath-alcohol test, so while the dead were taken to the state medical examiner's office in Chapel Hill and the injured to WakeMed and Rex hospitals, Veeder went to Wake County jail.

Veeder was being held in lieu of $120,000 bail late Sunday, scheduled to appear in court by this afternoon. Court papers Sunday did not list an attorney representing him.

Veeder has previous convictions for aiding and abetting drunken driving in 1990 and failing to comply with license restrictions in 1994. He pleaded guilty to driving without a license in 1992.

Mourning, praying

None of the crash victims was autopsied Sunday. Staff at the medical examiner's office could tell from a visual examination that five of the victims died from blunt force trauma. They had yet to examine Clemons' body.

Clemons, who worked for a road-striping company, did not grab identification before he went to the crash scene, and he went unidentified until relatives were called to WakeMed on Sunday. They knew him by the tattoo on his left shoulder: "Agnes," a memorial to his mother.

Christopher Alfaro, the N.C. State freshman who was with his parents at the crash, wept in a police car at the scene before returning to his dorm, roommate Jason Schaefer of Matthews said. The computer sciences major set out Sunday morning with his twin brother, Robert Alfaro, also a student at the university, to meet a third younger brother at home near Charlotte, Schaefer said.

Also Sunday, Martha West was released from Rex Hospital, according to state Highway Patrol Sgt. Barry Hower. Efforts to reach her failed.

Fulk, the driver of the green Blazer, was conscious and in serious condition at WakeMed.

Parents Joseph and Dianne Fulk of Asheville and brother Joe Fulk, 26, were with him. The family chose not to discuss the crash.

"They just wish prayers instead of press," said the Rev. Paul Christy of Sylva, who was with the family Sunday and recently succeeded Joseph Fulk as pastor of First United Methodist Church in Sylva, near Asheville.

Investigators had not filed charges against Fulk late Sunday, but Clendenin said troopers were investigating how fast he was driving and whether alcohol played a role in the initial crash.

A classmate who visited Fulk in the hospital Sunday said he was driving home from visiting a friend in Raleigh and on his way to meet more friends when the crash occurred. Senior Chiao Cheng said she did not think Fulk had been drinking.

Friends offer support -

Veeder was a regular at Sadlack's Heroes, a Hillsborough Street bar and sandwich shop where he was known as "Blinker." Many said Sunday night that Veeder is a gentle, generous person with a stock of jokes and a repertoire of sleight-of-hand tricks. He painted children's faces at Sadlack's on Halloween. He is a former chimney sweep and a professional clown who juggled and played the ukulele, the blues harmonica and squeezebox.

Veeder is known for wearing hats, including porkpies and fedoras. The hats, the instruments, the tricks and the corny jokes define his personality, said Peter Eichenberger, a columnist for the Independent Weekly.

"The ukulele just kind of suits this goofy, gentle nature he has," Eichenberger said.

His friends at Sadlack's wrote a note on a message board Sunday: "Hey, turn your sadness and concern into support for one of 'ours' who surely needs it NOW! Write a letter of support, love and of friendship. It will help him greatly and it will help you in your dealings with grief and sorrow."

"Out of all the people I know, Blinker is the most tragic person for this to happen to because he really wouldn't hurt a fly. He's a gentle-natured, gentle person," said Ryan Carlson, 34.

Patrons said Sunday that Veeder had not been in the bar before the accident.

By Sunday, much of the physical wreckage at the crash site had been removed. There were small reminders: a tangle of wires wrapped in a dandelion, shards of taillights, a shattered side-view mirror and a silver Chevrolet emblem. Passing cars sped over chalk outlines that straddled the middle of the road.

Tim Parry, the student who saw the crash, has had trouble sleeping. He wondered Sunday what Veeder was thinking as he sat in jail.

"Does he have any idea of what he's done?" Parry said. "The vision of the bodies -- that's pretty hard to get rid of."

Bryan Matthew Tutor
By CHRIS SERRES, Staff Writer

Sue Parrish fought back tears Sunday as she leafed through an album containing photos of her son-in-law, Bryan Matthew Tutor. In one photo, Tutor's 5-month-old son, Carson Brantley, is wearing the same Christmas outfit -- a red jumper with an elf's hat -- that Bryan wore when he was an infant.

"It just breaks my heart that Bryan didn't live to see his son enjoy that first Christmas," said Parrish, who lives in Angier.

Life was snatched from Tutor as everything appeared to be going his way. The 29-year-old had just found a new career repairing heating and air-conditioning systems. He was working part time while completing courses at Wake Technical Community College.

With his shaved head, goatee and 200-pound frame, Tutor might have looked intimidating. When friends gathered at his house to watch college football games, Tutor would usually cheer the loudest.

"You didn't want to be near that guy when N.C. State was losing," said Trae Shelton, 26, of Dunn.

Yet underneath that bravado was a "warm, kindhearted person" who cared deeply for his family.

Just a month before his death, Bryan and Mandy Tutor celebrated the anniversary of their first date. They met at the State Fair seven years ago.

Despite work and school, Tutor always tried to make it home to give his son a bath. When his wife went out, Tutor could be found sleeping next to his son on their bed.

He was also a great cook. When family and friends gathered at the Tutor home, Bryan did the cooking. His favorite dish was a powerful chili conjured up from onions, hamburger and hot peppers.
